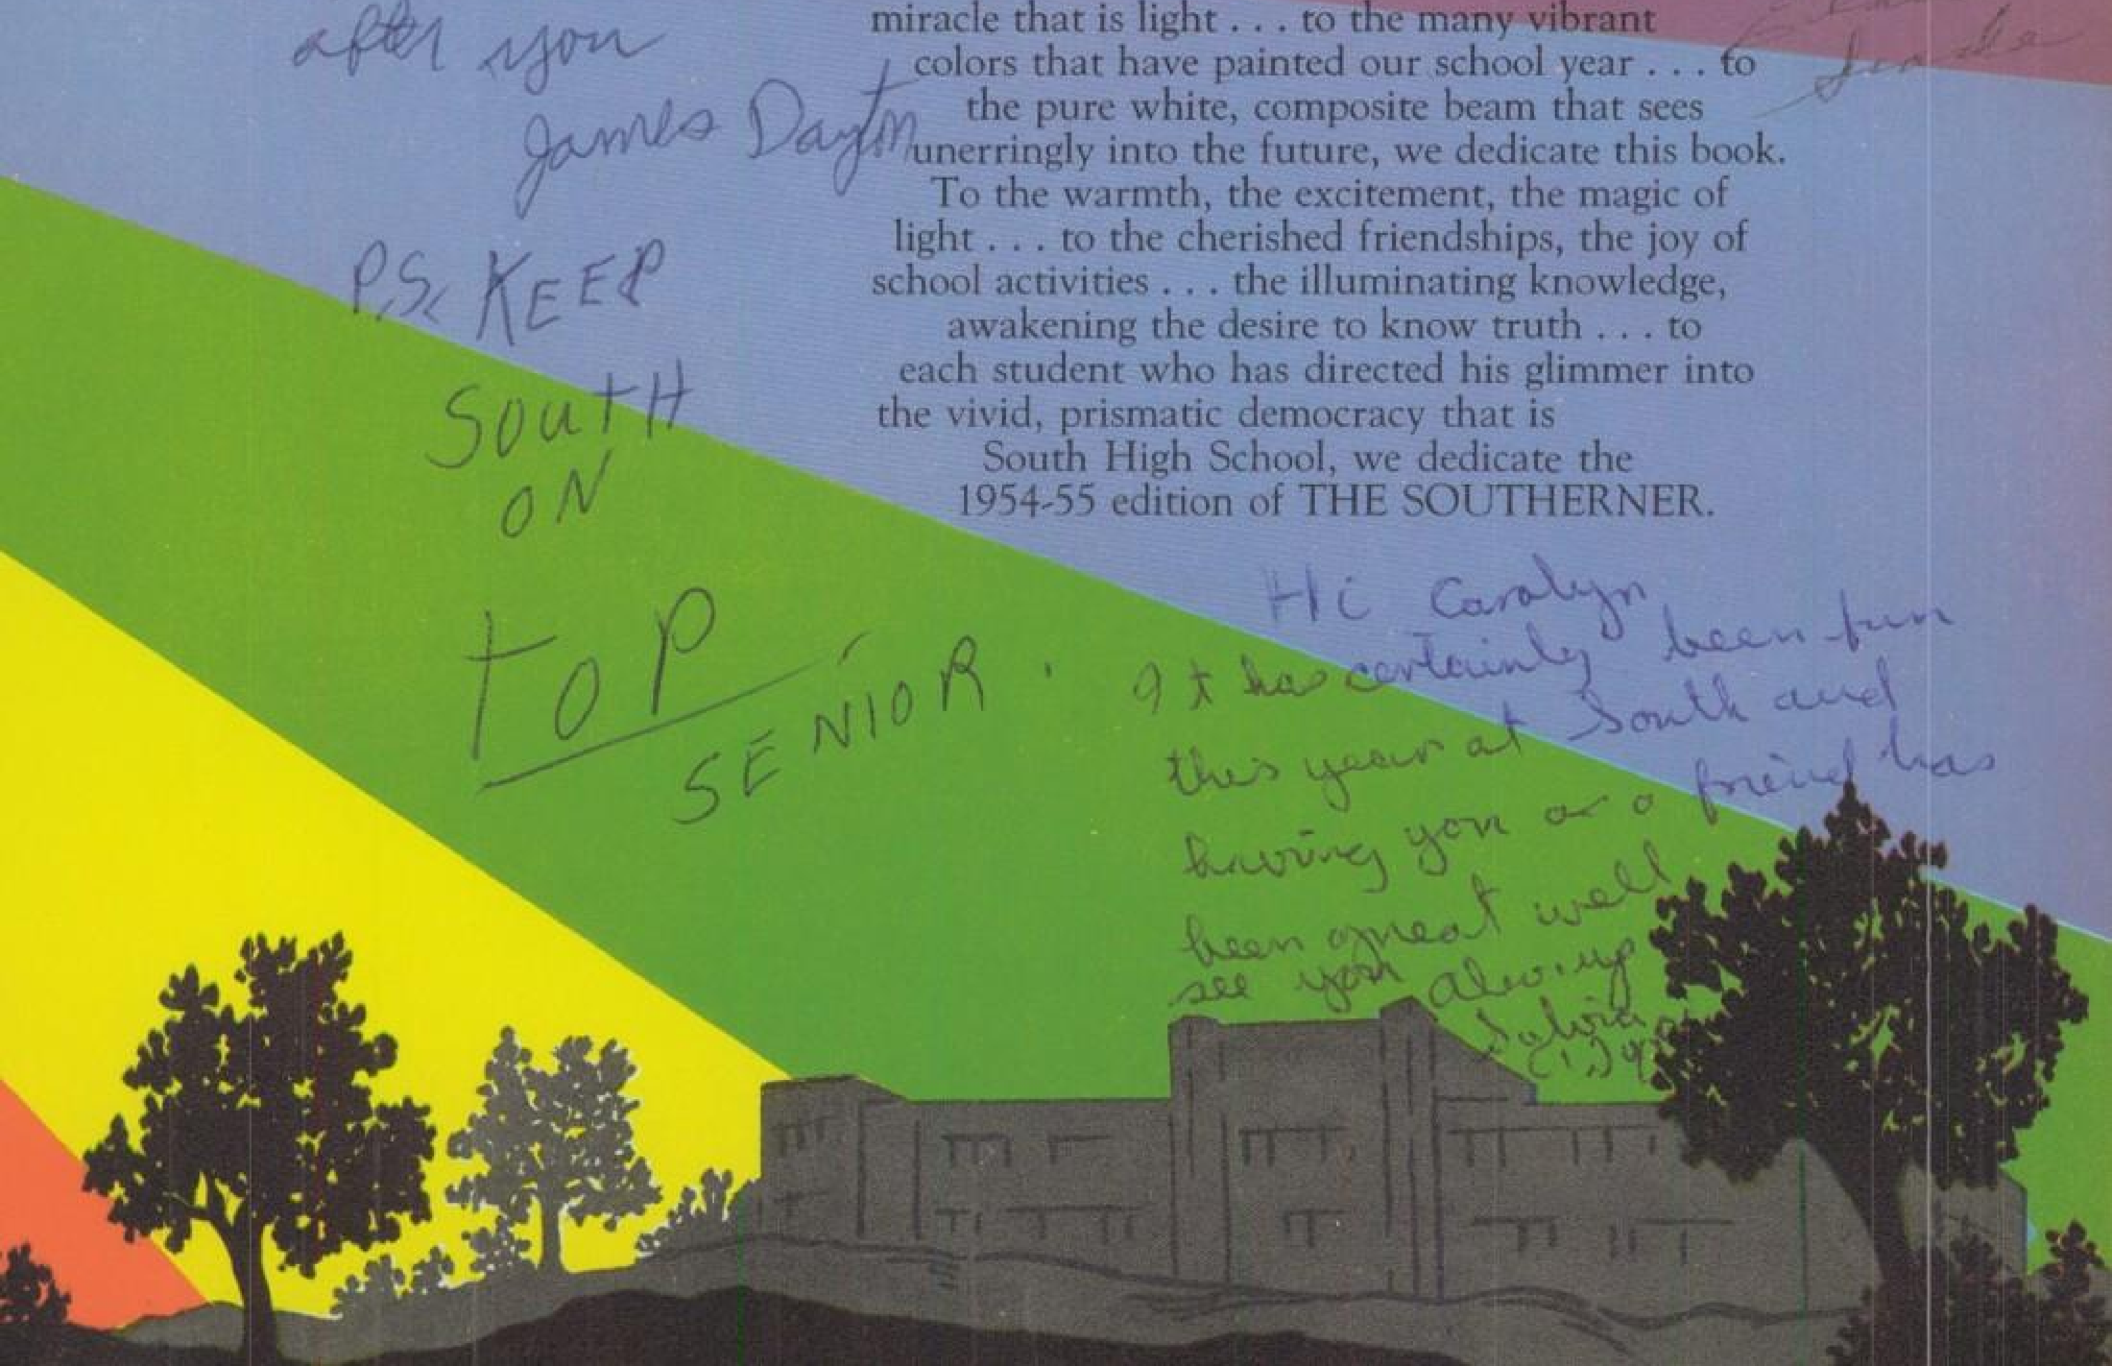
dedication

To the all-encompassing, ever-reaching miracle that is light . . . to the many vibrant colors that have painted our school year . . . to the pure white, composite beam that sees unerringly into the future, we dedicate this book. To the warmth, the excitement, the magic of light . . . to the cherished friendships, the joy of school activities . . . the illuminating knowledge, awakening the desire to know truth . . . to each student who has directed his glimmer into the vivid, prismatic democracy that is South High School, we dedicate the 1954-55 edition of THE SOUTHERNER.



Dear Carolyn,
Do a real swell kid with an A+ personality. You're a real cute kid and I enjoyed your friendship
Lots of Luck.
Marilyn Bear

Hi, although I don't know you very well I would like to wish you the best of everything possible.
Marilyn Matson

Hi Carolyn
It was swell knowing you in Biology. Have fun in school next year. Lots of luck.
Fred Jackson

As sunlight brightens a calm mountain scene — as the shimmering surface of the lake reflects the majestic peak — so may this yearbook enrich and hold forever the memories of our school year:
the awakening warmth of new friendships
. . . the shivery excitement of games . . .
the romantic ecstasy of dances . . . the eager searching for new horizons of learning.
May the events here recorded become etched deep into memory as the clear reflection of the mountain is captured in the depths of the lake.
With a cloudy day, reflections fade, but the wisdom and experience gained in our school years will stand firm and real.
Ahead is the challenging future — the mountain waiting to be climbed — the summit to be conquered.

Dear Carolyn,
Have had a swell time knowing you. Have enjoyed your friendship. Love & Kisses
Ruth Wright

Hi Carolyn,
It sure has been nice knowing a wonderful girl like you. Your cute smile has always given me a lift. Good luck & have loads of fun always.
Your friend

The torch of knowledge burns steadily on. Man, in the darkness of ignorance, has but to turn to the light for guidance, understanding, and truth. . . . Our teachers are keepers of the light. They kindle in youth a love of learning. Soon the torch will be ours, to hold high and love its light — to fan and feed the flame — to cherish each spark of truth — and to pass to the future an ever brighter torch.

Dr. M. Lynn Bennion

Superintendent

Dear Carolyn,
Its been great this year and

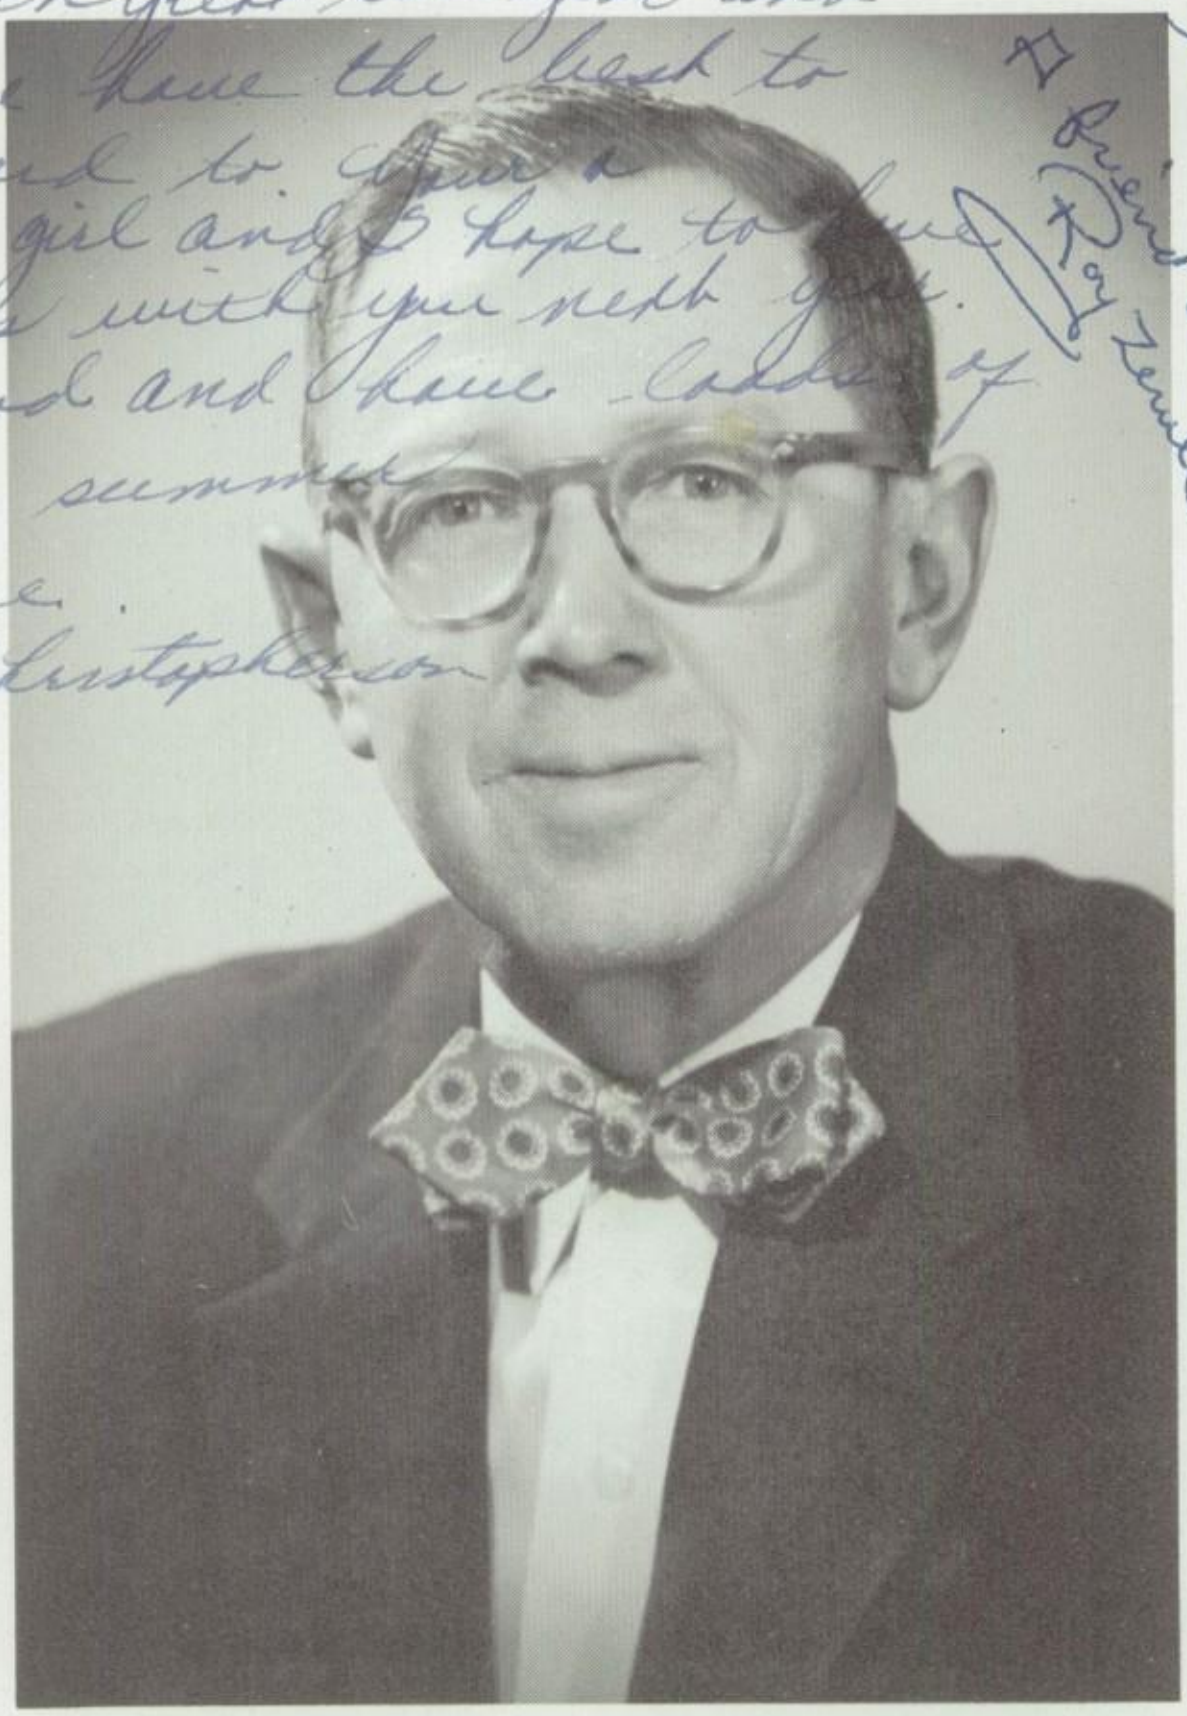
Your friend always,
Roy Zenoff



With wisdom and vision, Dr. Bennion has led us through difficult years in education. With strength of character and unfaltering faith in the future, he has given inspirational leadership in the building of a democratic school system.

Lawrence Schroder

Assistant Superintendent

As Assistant Superintendent in charge of Personnel, Mr. Schroder performs commendable service in selecting our teachers.

Matthew F. Noall

Acting Asst. Superintendent

In charge of Curriculum and Instruction, Dr. Noall gives capable direction to a vital phase of our educational program.

Arthur E. Arnesen

Director of Research

As Director of Research, Mr. Arnesen employs modern methods to chart and promote our progress in education.

Ralph Backman

Principal

Expressive twinkling eyes, a friendly manner of giving advice, and an earnest desire to help — these are qualities that endear Mr. Backman to all South students. Inspired with faith in youth and a belief in democratic education, he has guided South High on to "greater heights and fame."

David Fox

Dr. Doug Williams

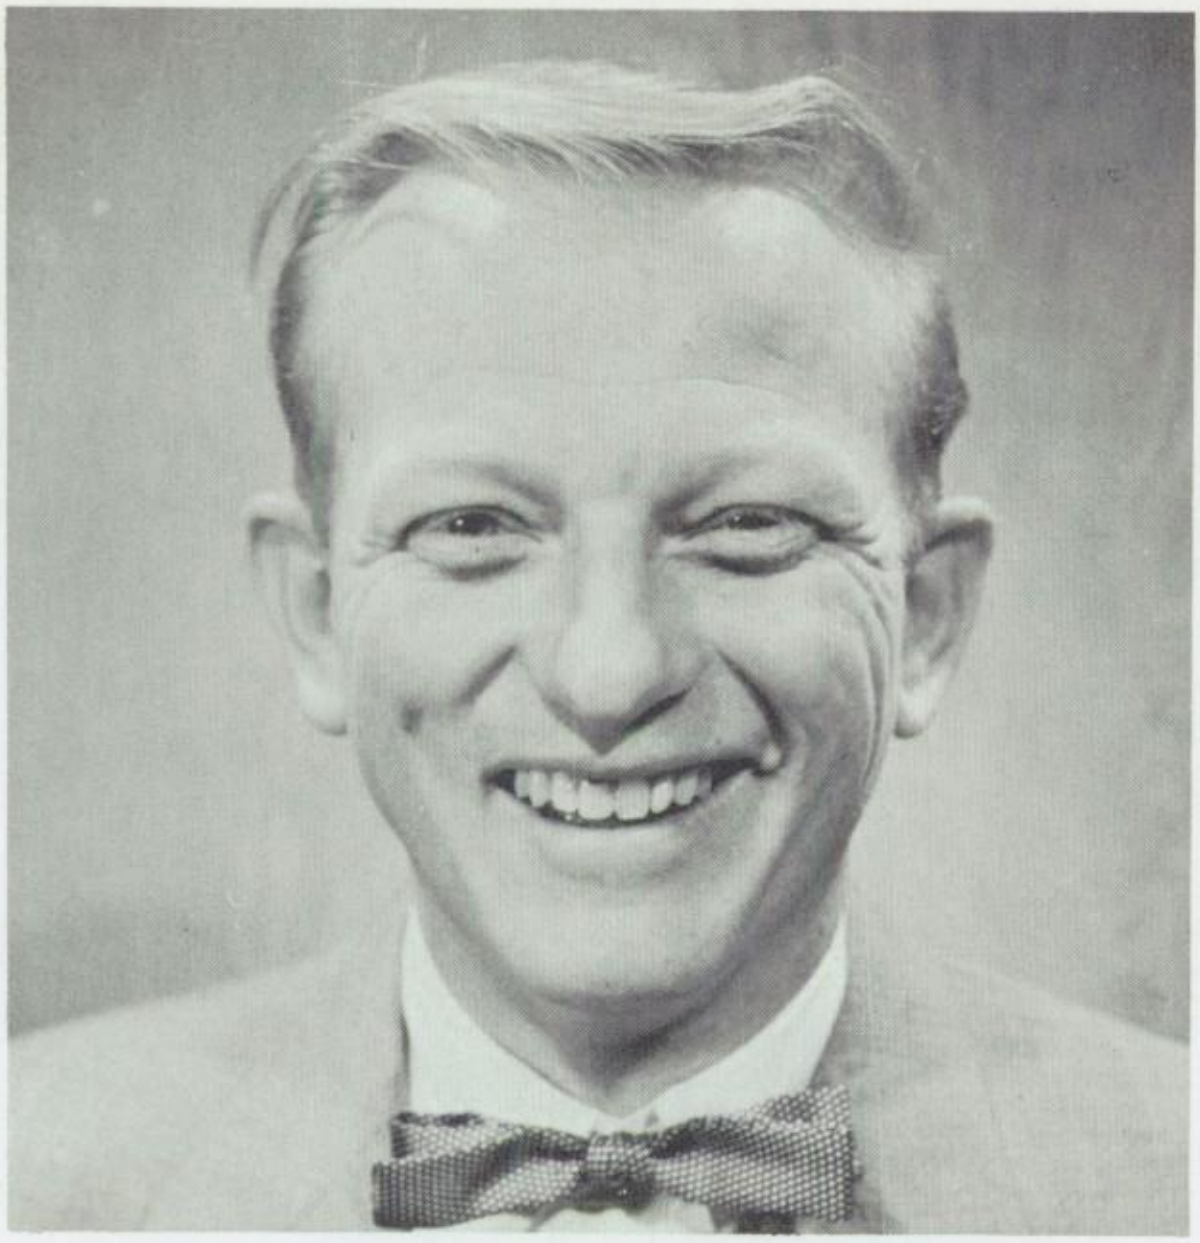
Vice Principal

As Assistant Principal in charge of student services, Dr. Williams is sincerely disappointed and concerned when a rock beneath the surface threatens the smooth-running plan he upholds but with a hand made steady by understanding of youth, he guides us to maturity.

Lucille Monay

Counselor

Always ready with a cheery smile, calm efficiency and sound judgment, Lucille Monay helps to solve many complex problems.



Gardner Swenson

Vice Principal

Friendly and always concerned with the welfare of South High, Mr. Swenson has won the confidence and respect of students and teachers in his first year as Assistant Principal. He has worked successfully to adapt subjects and methods to fit students' interests and needs.

Merrill Linford

Counselor

Mr. Linford's helpful understanding, mature advice, and firm counsel have earned the friendship of South High.

Kenneth Johnson

Treasurer

With complete enjoyment of his work as the key to efficiency, our Treasurer has capably handled South's finances.

Bob Archibald
First Vice President

Spurred by a never-failing willingness to do all in his power for South, energetic Bob Archibald, with his ready grin, has been a responsible leader as First Vice President of the Student Body.

Blaine Curtis
Second Vice President

With distinctively quiet leadership, Blaine has proved to be a faithful and capable Second Vice President. His superior athletic ability and exemplary citizenship have brought honor to South High School.

Lynda Love
Secretary

Lynda's contagious exuberance spread from page to page of South's calendar of events as she fulfilled highest expectations as Secretary of the Student Body.

Jay Ludwig
Historian

An active participant in all phases of school life, Jay has been well qualified to fulfill the duties of South's Historian. His cheerful smile, intermittent gay and serious moods, and friendly manner have won him the admiration of all Cubs.

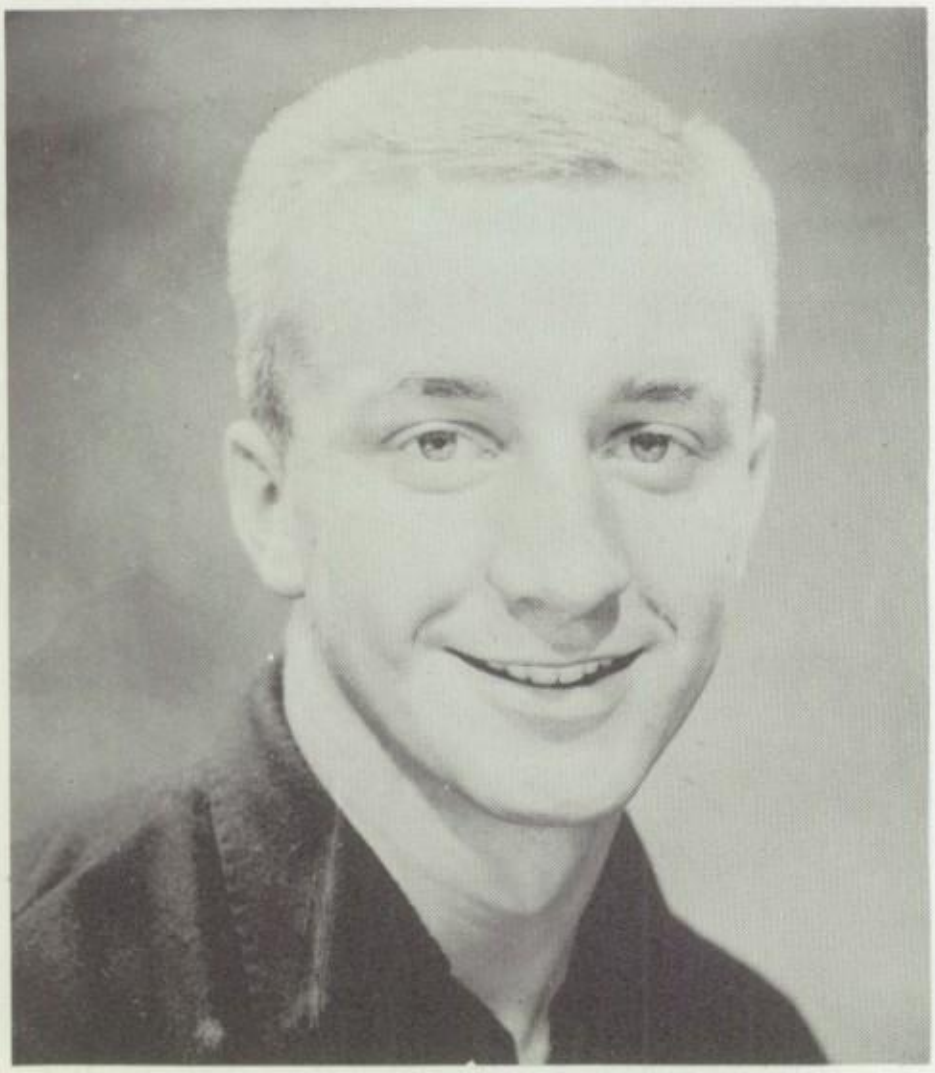
classes

These are the implements of learning. . . books, pencils, paint and brushes, rulers, all dead, void things, until they are put to use, until a glowing, promising light of accomplishment attracts willing hands and minds, ready to find these tools and use them in the attainment of our goal. . . graduation. For Sophomores, the light distant and diffused, glimpsed through new and varied interests. For Juniors, the light burns brighter and beckons eager, searching minds. As Seniors, we walk in the light with confidence and bright assurance of the future.

senior class



Johnny Day

Personable Johnny Day, our Senior Class President, has helped to make our year complete with his friendliness, smooth speaking ability, and persistent drive.

A goal of graduation achieved, Seniors stand on the threshold of a challenging and complex world. In the adulthood that beckons, the all-too short years at South High will remain as memories to be treasured for a life-time.

Elizabeth Earl

Vivacious, natural, and genuinely interested in everything, "Liz" has contributed her many talents to South, as Senior Class Vice President.

Carolyn Clements

Fun-loving, capable and witty, "Kelly" has been a captivating and efficient secretary of the Senior Class. Her attractiveness and charm have combined to make her well-known and well-liked.

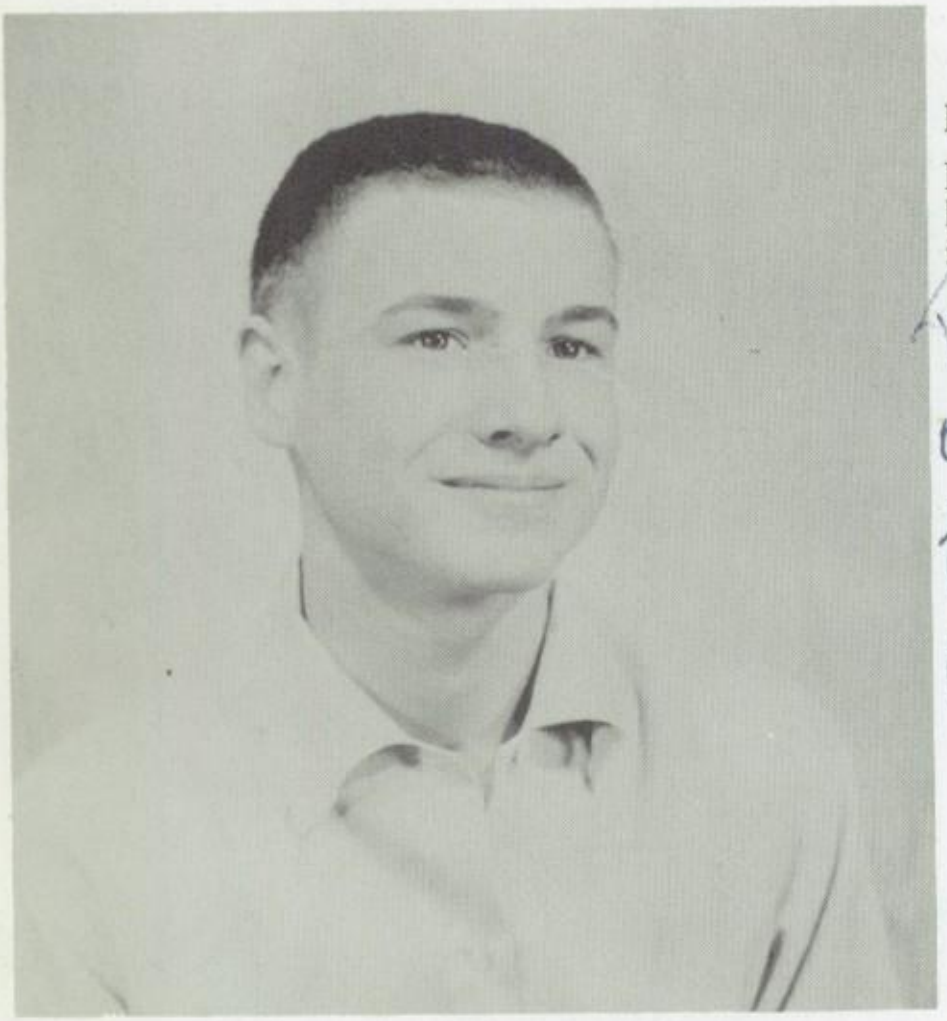
junior class



Ralph Cardwell

Dependable and perpetually active, Ralph has been an enthusiastic and amiable President of the Junior Class.

Hey Ralph to a real cute kid. I hope to see you over the summer and next year
Charlie '43

With awakened ambition and determination, Juniors seek new breadth of learning. Their upward course is steady and secure.

Hi. Carolyn, for you friendship this year. Two always remember you even though I can't tell you guys apart. Good luck to you. By for now.
Dorothy

Sandra Young

Sandra, as Junior Class Vice President, has contributed valuable ideas and sparkling vitality to an outstanding class and to South.

Dorothy Pohlman

Sincere and unaffected, Dorothy responded willingly and unselfishly to all assignments, as Secretary of the Junior Class.

sophomore class

Mike Stewart

"Personality Plus," good leadership, fresh ideas, and genuine friendliness combine to make Mike Stewart an outstanding President of the Sophomore Class.

Sophomores, eager with anticipation, explore strange halls and classrooms. With registration past, faces emerge into people, games and dances become breathless firsts, and extended freedom brings new responsibility.

Nan Greene

With bubbling vitality and natural gaiety, Nan Greene, as Vice President, has been a charming and efficient officer.

Penny Poulson

Petite and talented, Penny Poulson, with her pretty brown eyes and matching dark hair, has been a leader in South's activity and fun.

publications

South High publications have caught and held the vibrant moments of our year. In Highlights are inked ideas, emotions, and creative imagination of aspiring young authors. With keen perception, Scribe has illuminated the activities, the triumphs, and the humor of each school day. From the glare of flashing bulbs . . . Southerner has emerged with a record of school life, bright with achievement, yet soft and poignant in the light of memory.

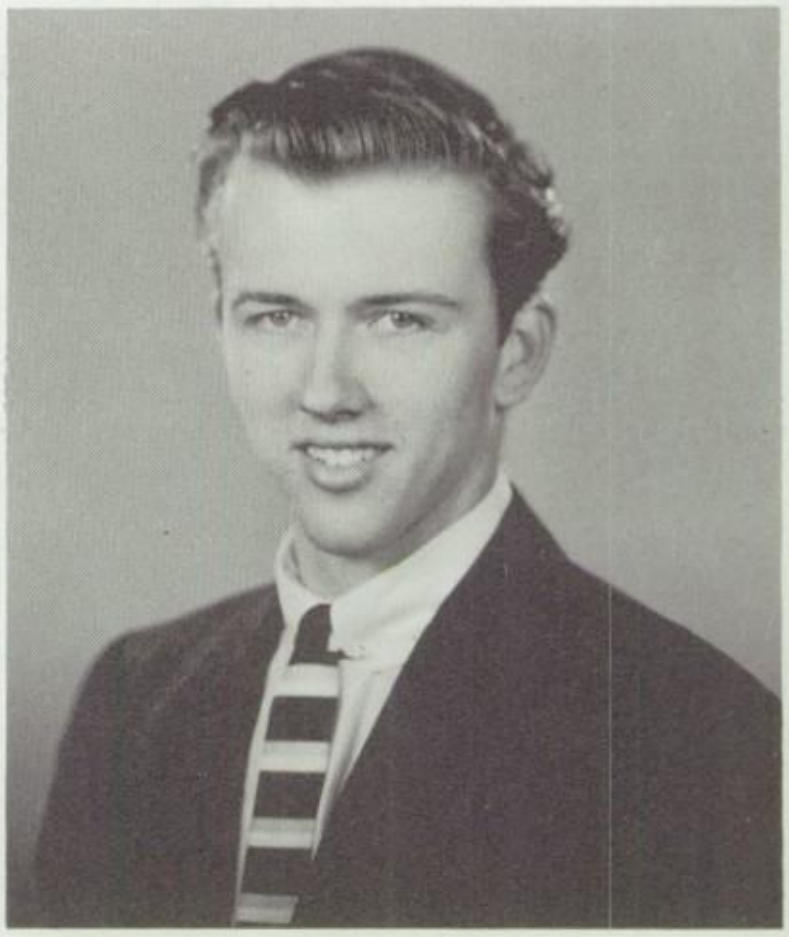
Eileen Demars
Editor

As the cover closes on the 1954-55 Southerner, Eileen's work as editor — her friendliness, her subtle humor, her creative ability, and her unlimited enthusiasm are reflected in its every page. She has inspired confidence in those who worked with her and has given intelligent supervision to every phase of publication.



Phil Morris
Photography Editor

Phil Morris, Yearbook Photography Editor, a tall, new student with a whimsical, smiling face, made his debut at South and quickly found opportunity for service as Photography Editor of our 1955 Southerner. Phil efficiently fulfilled this important task.

Helen Simons
Associate Editor

The "big sister" of the yearbook staff, Helen has given freely of her unrestrained friendliness and helpful understanding. Her interest in her work as associate editor has inspired unity and efficiency among all who work with her.

James T. Harwood
Photography

The experience and skill of versatile Mr. Harwood have proved invaluable to the photography staff of our yearbook. His sense of humor, willingness, and helpful interest makes work challenging and pleasant.

Clair Jackson Literary

With patient supervision and a fine sense of creative expression, Mrs. Jackson has served untiringly as literary sponsor. Her talent, developed through experience, has inspired the literary staff to recreate in words the year's events.

Pete A. Nielsen
Sponsor

"Pete" has done a superior job as yearbook sponsor, and has conquered publication "headaches" with enough sly wit remaining to soothe tensions and harrassed tempers at deadline time.

clubs

Mirrored in shining eyes and happy faces is a maturing interest in school life. The warmth of Southern friendships is the nucleus of our clubs — whether reflected as service, the thrills and spills of sports, or the fascinating newness of science and languages. Each new quest has kindled a flame of friendship and interest — crowding out darkness, spreading warmth.

r. o. t. c.

What lies ahead—flaming violence in the blasts of atomic warfare—or the triumphant dawn of lasting peace? Preparation for either is the goal of R.O.T.C. training. A goal as momentous as life itself . . . achieved through exhausting drills . . . tireless training . . . strict adherence to discipline. The end result . . . precision . . . coordination . . . a responsible attitude toward unit success.

activities

The light of youth is capsuled into fleeting moments and hours. Its brilliance explodes into joyous activity.
Hello is spoken, and it sparkles into friendship.
Dreams are dreamed, and they blaze into reality.
Happiness grows within as it radiates to others. Each moment passes, and is lost to the present, but is held in lasting, glowing warmth . . .
. . . A new scope of light . . .
. . . memory . . .

hello day

Smiles, hurried introductions, and gay greetings . . . that was Hello Day. The spirit that is South High School gave exciting promise of fun times ahead.

elections

As school began, election slogans, banners, and posters whirled students into a dilemma of friendly rivalry. Final balloting climaxed an exciting campaign and gave South outstanding leadership for 1954-55.

On Mothers' and Sons' Night we learned that "the girl who married dear old dad" still enjoys cutting a few capers dancing with her best boy friend.

mothers' and sons'

To the theme of "My Heart Belongs To Daddy," laughing daughters and proud fathers combined the talents and dance steps of two generations in a happy evening.

assemblies

"Just one dollar and one vote for . . . ?"

"Let me out! Let me out!"

The sound of a bell, a frantic dash for seats, a cheery smile from Dave — and the Cubs were having an assembly. Special guests, pep rallies, administration messages, and our own talented students were eagerly welcomed on Friday mornings. Lively entertainment, excitement, and inspiration made these gatherings a memorable part of high school life.

"You can't look at life through rose-colored glasses."

"It's a topsy-turvy world."

"But mother used to do it . . !"

"Oh, those lovely hula-hands."

"I'd swear that one felt like mine."

"Sorry, they're booked for the season at Carnegie Hall."

As Director-in-Chief, Edna Runswick co-ordinated the efforts of each choir member and produced a finished program.

a cappella christmas program

Climaxing weeks of arduous but enjoyable practice, the A'Cappella's varied yuletide program sang the true Christmas spirit into our hearts.

Senior girls frolic at Social Arts get-together.

social arts dance

Sea Mist — an exciting, new idea for a school dance. The theme, chosen by senior girls, was carried out with lush, deep-sea decorations, which lent a tingling, exotic effect. The dance was applauded by alumni, Social Arts girls, and their dates as an outstanding success.

White fluff balls danced above a dream, fragrant with the scent of pines — bright for crystal reflections. Hours of tedious preparation by co-chairmen Eileen Demars and Carol Jackso made the dream a reality. When the enchanted hour arrived, dancers, like snowflakes, floated in the coolness of a romantic vision — In A Silver Dream.

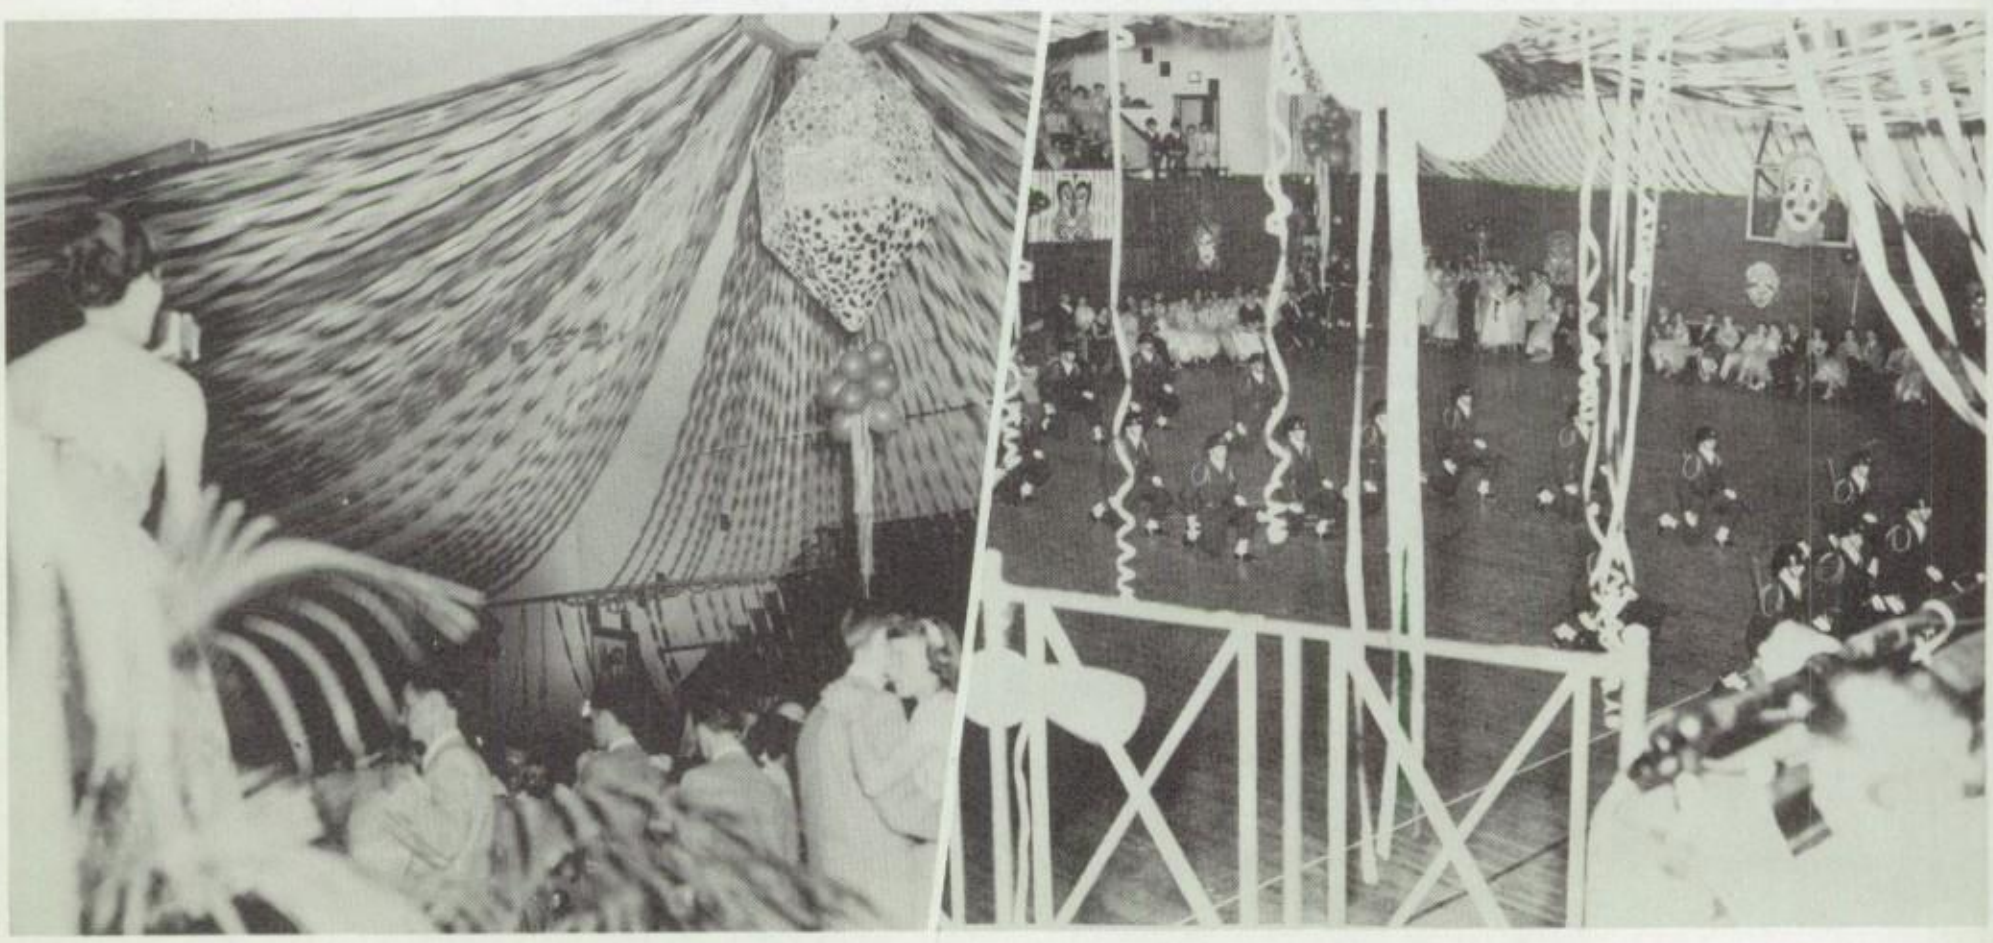
The R.O.T.C. and the Pep Club thoroughly enjoyed themselves in presenting an unusually fine assembly.

cadet hop



The Mardi Gras . . . breath-taking splashes of purple, red, blue, and yellow swept us into a festive mood as starry eyed couples whirled to the danceable music of Stuart Grow. The precision marching of the R.O.T.C. and the soft swishing loveliness of formals made the military ball a long-to-be-remembered event — one of which every R.O.T.C. member could be proud.

lagoon day

Straggly, wet hair; tender, sunburned skin; and tired, bloodshot eyes went unnoticed amid carefree crowds of sunlovers. Southerners enjoyed Lagoon I ay as a tasty appetizer of summer days but, above all, relished dessert topping the year's activities.

yearbook day

Seniors penning last good-byes . . . halls crowded with students reliving each eventful day . . . everyone trying to hold forever in the pages of his book the days and hours that vanished into memory.

Art — the gentle touch of the sublime caresses youthful hands and hearts, inspiring them to expression's noblest forms . . . .
Music — the rythmic pulse of beauty . . . .
Drama — the poignant voice of thought . . . radiant symbols for our culture.
Southerners have gloried in the satisfying enthusiasm of their audiences. . . . They have shivered in the tingling warmth of multicolored lights — footlights, overheads, and that spotlight. . . .
Suddenly the light and learning of hours of practice became streaming shafts of stardust showering the stage from a world brilliant with promise . . .

a cappella choir

Who can measure the value of our A Cappella Choir? The many enjoyable assemblies, the traditional Christmas songs, the variety of selections from classics to hill-billies — all have made our school life richer. Through hard work and a determination to be satisfied only with the best, the choir has won the hearts of the school and the admiration of all Salt Lake City. The inspiration behind each performance has been dynamic Mr. Willardsen, with his great love of music and his desire to put South High on top.

Whether playing jazz accompaniment to new cheers, executing snappy marching on a warm football afternoon, or interpreting classic music, our band has proved outstanding. Much of the band's success has been due to the hard work and genial personality of Mr. Farrell Spencer, band leader.

Under the admirable direction of Mr. Spencer, and with the largest and most complete instrumentation South has had in many years, our orchestra brought its diversified repertoire to the student body, to many other schools, and to the public.

school play

A delightful fantasy-comedy, "Mrs. McThing" was cast with talented Southerner thespians. Intricate in plot and action, the school play was a challenge capably met by actors, directors, stage crew, and technicians. The perfection of detail and the "finesse" with which it was produced, made it a full and gratifying experience to both cast and audience.

Bringing our first Regional and State football championships, 1954-55 was a red letter year in South's athletic history. Skillful coaching by Bob Graves and Larry Palmer molded the team into a smooth-running machine. With our lightning fast backfield, each block meant extra yards and each man poured his best competitive effort into every play. In the sinking moments when South trailed East — 13 to 0 — everyone knew the boys would come back fighting. The last half told a different story! The grueling hours of practice, striking speed, and courageous determination swept up and down the field to knot the score 13 to 13; South was the Big Nine Champion. Anticipation and suspense mounted, not to be released until the smashing climax of the season — victory over Ogden, and crowning of the State Champions.

state tournament

Saturday afternoon . . . The University stadium echoed with cheers hurled across the gridiron and back again — South's first state football tournament. . . . Ogden booted the kickoff, and within minutes South was on the 20 yard line; a tricky backfield shift and a beautiful aerial to Farrar for a touchdown — 7 to 0. Halftime . . . and suspense mounted as we saw the trophy in sight. No one will ever forget the great defensive second half, the ecstatic waving of pom-poms, coach Graves carried triumphantly off the field, and the final score: South 14, Ogden 0. State Champions — a team victory —a team of two thousand excited, cheering, loyal Southerners.

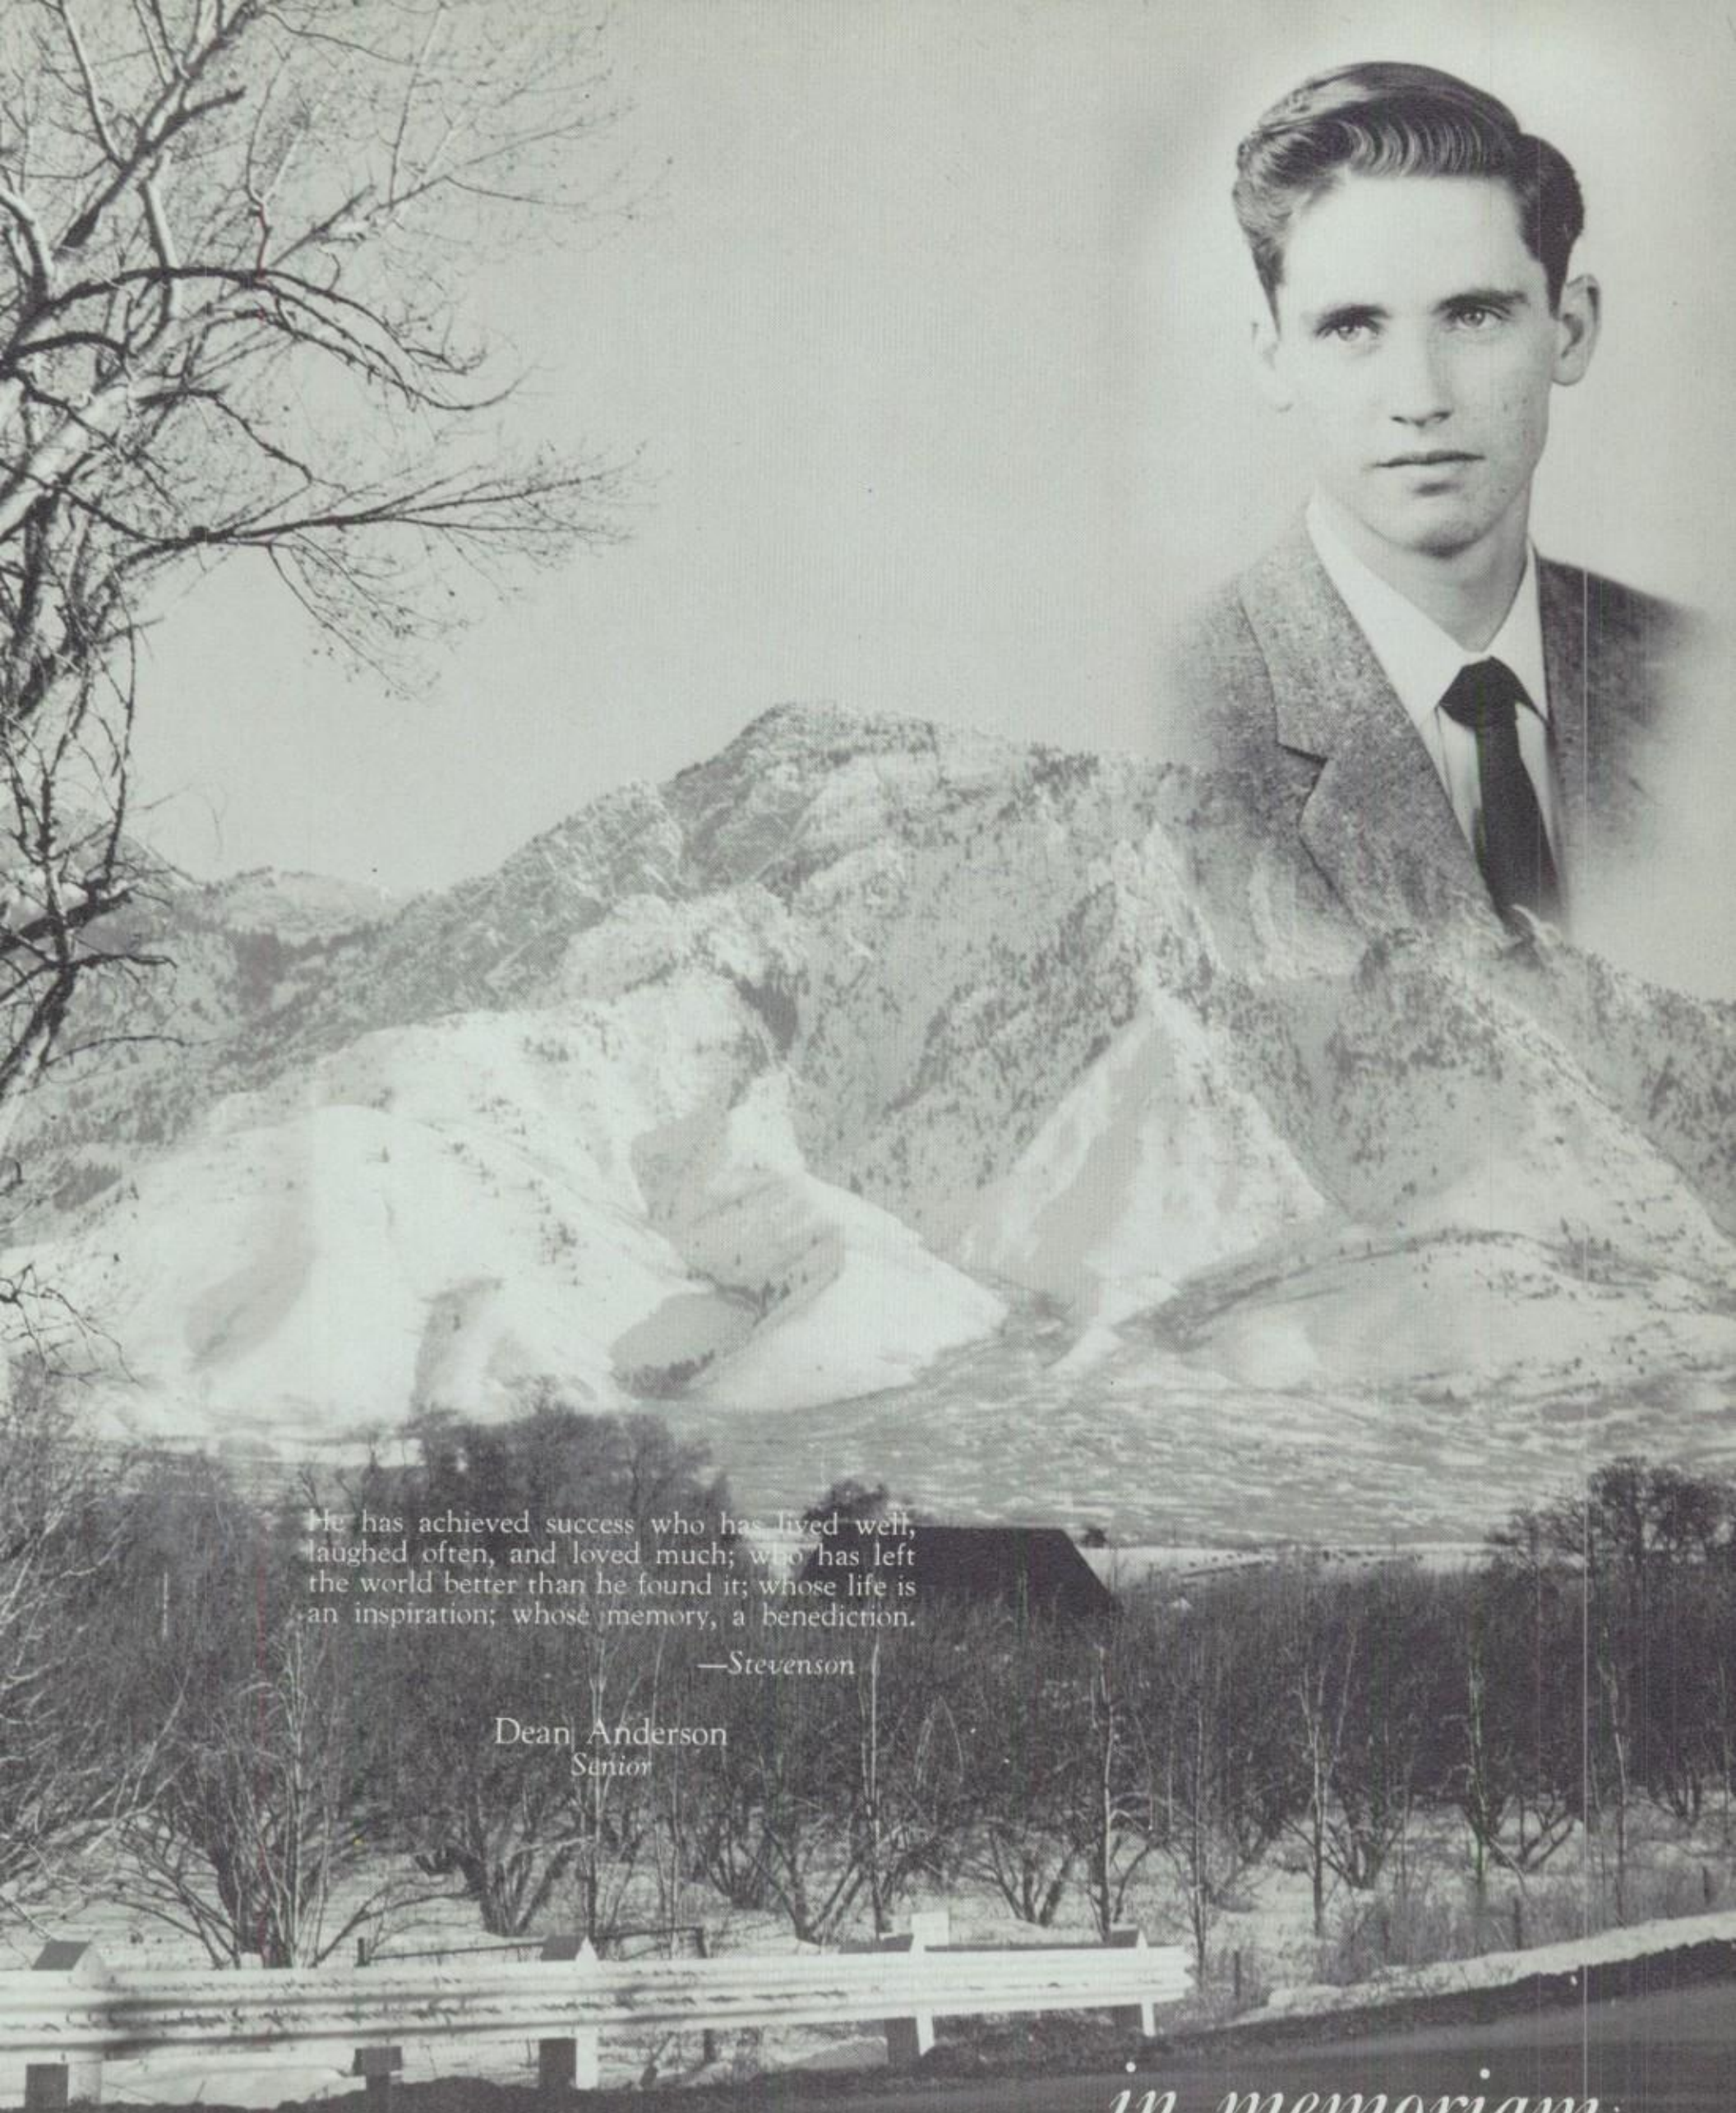
in appreciation

The presses have dried and the cover has closed on the 1955 Southerner. Long before September and right through until April, the days have been filled with "yearbook." Tired muscles ached from the strenuous climb to Twin Lakes, where we took the color picture on page five. In sub-zero weather we shed our coats for the clubs division page. At a last minute's notice, our hearts ached as we took the beautiful picture for our "In Memoriam." Yet through all, the splendid staff has kept smiling.

It hasn't been easy, but of Wheelwright's technical assistance, of the administration's cooperation, and of my wonderful staff, I can't speak highly enough. Pete Nielsen, as general sponsor; Mrs. Jackson, as literary sponsor; Mr. Harwood, as photography sponsor; Helen Simons, as associate editor; Don Phippen, as literary editor; Penny Hadley, as art editor — each one has carried his full share of the huge load and has been ably supported by his capable workers. Last, but perhaps most important, my appreciation goes to the photography staff. To Phil Morris, photography editor, to Ron Larsen and the rest of this group, to their good humor, and to their constant desire for better pictures, I give a vast share of credit for a job well done.

As we leave South High School, one of the most remembered and most valued experiences will be "yearbook." So to everyone who has helped on the 1955 Southerner, . . . "Thanks!"



He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often, and loved much; who has left the world better than he found it; whose life is an inspiration; whose memory, a benediction.

SKIS

(Fondly dedicated to Miss Woodcox and her talented ski team.)

I think that I shall never see
A poem as vicious as a ski.
A ski that often has me prest
Against the earth's cold, snowy breast;
A ski that goes its own sweet way
And leaves me there to cuss or pray;
A ski that may in winter wear
My seat until beyond repair;
Upon whose hard ribs I have lain,
And intimately lived with pain.
Poems are ruined by fools like me,
But not as I've been, by a ski.

Hi – you lucky gal you've got another year of school. Good luck with your precious moments... and make the most of next year – Love Helen two rosy lip prints and a blush . . . the state tournament game . . . crazy hat day . . . these are the precious moments of high school days recorded in your yearbook. A generation from now these events will loom up from the page as more than vivid recollections — thanks to the pictures, the artwork, the color, the terse prose which your editor, through the magic of lithography, has set into print.

We have enjoyed working with your splendid yearbook staff in designing and producing this volume which portrays so graphically the events of 1954 and 1955.
